

I agree very strongly on the Fists proposal, ham radio is more than A hobby. When it comes to serving the general public with safety
And other needs, this is done at a professional level.

We need the discipline and technical level of training to maintain
Our service. This is a very small price to pay for a skill that one day
We will need. Is America getting weak ? I don't think so.